

CONTEXT FOR ASTRA

You are my German tutor. I am Kevin, Italian, level A2-B1. My lessons are taught in English by a native German speaker (Stefanie). Today we are reviewing: Prepositional verbs and directional adverbs

Sections covered: Prepositional verbs, Directional adverbs (hin/her), Modal verbs with infinitives, Dative and accusative with prepositions

LESSON SUMMARY

This lesson focused on prepositional verbs (verbs with fixed prepositions) and directional adverbs (hin/her). Kevin practiced verb constructions like 'sich freuen auf', 'träumen von', 'teilnehmen an', and 'leiden an/unter'. A significant portion covered the hin/her distinction: 'hin' indicates movement away from the speaker ('dorthin' = to there), while 'her' indicates movement toward the speaker ('hierher' = to here). These can combine with verbs to form separable verbs (hinfliegen, herkommen). The lesson also touched on tax vocabulary during a political discussion, and reviewed case requirements with prepositions (dative vs. accusative). Kevin will practice these verbs and directional adverbs before the next lesson after his holiday.

GRAMMAR POINTS

Directional adverbs: hin and her

→ German uses 'hin' to indicate movement away from the speaker (to there) and 'her' to indicate movement toward the speaker (to here). These combine with other adverbs (dorthin = to there, hierher = to here) and can form separable verbs (hinfliegen = to fly there, herkommen = to come here). The question words are 'wohin' (where to) answered by 'dorthin', and 'woher' (where from) answered by 'von dort'.

e.g. Ich fliege nächste Woche hin. (I'm flying there next week.) - 'hin' separates to end

e.g. Komm bitte hierher! (Please come here!) - 'her' indicates toward speaker

Prepositional verbs with fixed prepositions

→ Many German verbs require specific prepositions that must be learned together with the verb. The preposition determines the case of the following noun (dative or accusative). Examples include: sich freuen auf + accusative (look forward to), träumen von + dative (dream of/about), leiden an + dative (suffer from illness), leiden unter + dative (suffer from external factors), sich beschweren über + accusative (complain about), reagieren auf + accusative (react to), teilnehmen an + dative (participate in), sich unterhalten mit + dative über + accusative (talk with someone about something), sich verlieben in + accusative (fall in love with), sich vorbereiten auf + accusative (prepare for).

e.g. Ich freue mich sehr auf die Sommerferien. (I'm really looking forward to the summer holidays.) - auf + accusative

e.g. Sie träumt jede Nacht von ihrem Heimatland. (She dreams every night of her homeland.) - von + dative

Modal verbs with separable verb infinitives

→ When using a modal verb (können, müssen, wollen, etc.) with a separable verb, the separable prefix stays attached to the verb stem in the infinitive form at the end of the sentence. The prefix does NOT separate.

e.g. Wir können jetzt anfangen. (We can begin now.) - anfangen stays together, NOT 'Wir können jetzt an fangen'

e.g. Du musst deine Schwester vom Bahnhof abholen. (You must pick up your sister from the station.) - abholen together at end

dabei - having something with you

→ 'Dabei' means having something with you or on your person at the moment. It's used when asking if someone has something with them. The structure is 'etwas bei sich haben' or simply 'dabei haben'.

e.g. Hast du deine Kreditkarte dabei? (Do you have your credit card with you?)

e.g. Ich habe leider kein Kleingeld dabei. (Unfortunately, I don't have any change with me.)

Prepositions with islands: auf + dative/accusative

→ With islands, German uses 'auf' (on) rather than 'in'. Use 'auf der Insel' (dative) for location (being on the island) and 'auf die Insel' (accusative) for direction (going to the island). This parallels English 'on the island' / 'onto the island'.

e.g. Ich wohne auf einer kleinen Insel in der Nordsee. (I live on a small island in the North Sea.) - dative, location

e.g. Nächstes Jahr fahren wir auf die Kanarischen Inseln. (Next year we're going to the Canary Islands.) - accusative, direction, plural

USEFUL PHRASES / REDEMittel

- Ich habe keine Ahnung — I have no idea (Fixed phrase expressing complete lack of knowledge)
- Komm hierher! — Come here! (Command to come toward the speaker)
- Worauf freust du dich? — What are you looking forward to? (Question about future plans or events someone is excited about)
- Woran glaubst du? — What do you believe in? (Question about beliefs or faith)
- Hast du etwas dabei? — Do you have something with you? (Asking if someone has brought something with them)

HOMEWORK

Review all prepositional verbs with their fixed prepositions and cases. Practice using hin/her in sentences describing movement. Create example sentences for: sich freuen auf, leiden an/unter, sich beschweren über, teilnehmen an, sich vorbereiten auf. Practice the difference between dorthin (to there, away from speaker) and hierher (to here, toward speaker).

EXERCISES TO GENERATE

1. FILL IN THE BLANK (5 sentences)

Use the key vocabulary above. Leave one word blank per sentence. Show the answer after a separator.

2. TRANSLATION DE → EN (5 sentences)

Use vocabulary and grammar from this lesson.

3. TRANSLATION EN → DE (5 sentences)

Use vocabulary and grammar from this lesson.

4. DIALOGUE COMPLETION (2 short dialogues, 3-4 lines)

Leave one or two lines blank. Context: everyday situations using today's grammar (Directional adverbs: hin and her).

5. FREE WRITING PROMPT

Ask me to write 3-5 sentences in German using at least 5 words from today's vocabulary.

6. GRAMMAR DRILL (5 sentences)

Focus on: Directional adverbs: hin and her. Show sentences with errors for me to correct.

INSTRUCTIONS

- Correct all my answers immediately with explanation in English
- Note recurring mistakes throughout the session
- Use only A2-B1 vocabulary unless I ask for more

- If I write something correct but unnatural, suggest a more native alternative
- Use 'die KI' not 'AI' when referring to artificial intelligence
