

CONTEXT FOR ASTRA

You are my German tutor. I am Kevin, Italian, level A2-B1. My lessons are taught in English by a native German speaker (Stefanie). Today we are reviewing: Indefinite Pronouns and Relative Clauses

Sections covered: Indefinite pronouns (jemand, niemand, alle, jeder, einer), Temporal prepositions vor and seit, Double conjunctions (zwar...aber, nicht nur...sondern auch), Verb abschließen, Relative pronoun was, Vocabulary: Heimweh, Kellner, fremd, Gehirn, Gruppe, Wald, voll, leer

LESSON SUMMARY

Kevin and Stefanie reviewed indefinite pronouns (jemand, niemand, alle, jeder, einer, etc.) and their declensions, which proved challenging. They practiced forming sentences with these pronouns and discussed the distinctions between alle (all) and jeder (every), and when to use jemand vs. einer. They covered temporal prepositions vor and seit with Dativ, double conjunctions (zwar...aber, nicht nur...sondern auch), and the verb abschließen (to finish/complete). Kevin struggled with the complexity of indefinite pronouns in isolation but demonstrated ability to use them correctly in context. Stefanie assigned exercises on relative clauses (Relativsätze) for homework, particularly focusing on the relative pronoun was after indefinite pronouns like alles, etwas, nichts.

GRAMMAR POINTS

Temporal prepositions vor and seit with Dativ

→ vor means 'ago' and indicates a point in the past (vor zwei Jahren = two years ago). seit means 'since/for' and indicates duration up to the present (seit 20 Jahren = for 20 years). Both require Dativ case: vor dem Jahr, seit einem Jahr.

e.g. Vor zwei Jahren habe ich meinen Bachelor abgeschlossen. (Two years ago I completed my bachelor's degree.)

e.g. Ich lebe seit 20 Jahren in Spanien. (I have been living in Spain for 20 years.)

Double conjunctions: zwar...aber (although...but still) → zwar...aber expresses a contrast: although X is true, Y is still the case. The structure is: zwar + clause, aber + clause. In English this is often 'although...still' or 'even though...but'.

e.g. Ich komme zwar aus Peru, aber seit zwanzig Jahren wohne ich in Spanien. (I'm from Peru, but I've been living in Spain for twenty years.)

e.g. Yara kommt zwar aus Spanien, aber ihr Zuhause ist Deutschland. (Yara is from Spain, but her home is Germany.)

Double conjunctions: nicht nur...sondern auch (not only...but also) → nicht nur...sondern auch connects two elements showing addition or expansion. The structure parallels English 'not only...but also'.

e.g. Er spricht nicht nur Französisch, sondern auch Japanisch und Mandarin. (He speaks not only French, but also Japanese and Mandarin.)

e.g. Ich spreche nicht nur Englisch, sondern auch Italienisch, Französisch und Deutsch. (I speak not only English, but also Italian, French, and German.)

Indefinite pronouns: alle vs. jeder

→ alle means 'all' (plural: alle Menschen = all people, alle Straßen = all streets). jeder means 'every/each' (singular: jede Person = every person). alle takes plural nouns, jeder takes singular nouns. Both decline like der/die/das.

e.g. Alle Straßen sind leer. (All streets are empty.)

e.g. Jede Person hat ein Gehirn. (Every person has a brain.)

Relative pronoun was after indefinite pronouns

→ After neuter indefinite pronouns like alles, etwas, nichts, and after substantivized adjectives (das Beste, das Schönste), or when referring to an entire clause, use the relative pronoun was (not das).

e.g. Alles, was ich brauche. (Everything that I need.)

e.g. Etwas, was mir wichtig ist. (Something that is important to me.)

USEFUL PHRASES / REDEMittel

- Ich bestelle einen Döner mit allem — I order a kebab with everything (Ordering food with all toppings)
- Er spricht mit niemandem — He speaks with nobody (Using indefinite pronoun niemand (nobody))
